Service Technician

Description

Are you tired of working for a company that doesn't have the tools you need to succeed. Do you feel as though your skills and talents as a technician are not being used to their fullest extent? Here at Budds we are looking for experienced pool technicians to join a group of the highest trained and highest paid pool experts in the industry. As a top notch technician at Budds you will be involved in rigorous in house training, be sent to seminar and certification classes, and trained by our manufacturers and distributors on specific products. You will be equipped with all the latest high tech tools in the industry and opportunities to own those tools. All of our technicians are assigned their own fully stocked truck with gas card and will be assigned another team member as your helper. You will truly be your own team within our team. .

We offer a variety of compensation plans with opportunities for medical, dental, and life insurance along with bonus packages and retirement planning. On top of all this we also have paid vacations, 401k, and paid holidays. And during our peak times, overtime opportunities are always available at an increased rate.
